ON THE SENATE SILVER BILL

The Position of the President Towards the Same is Unknown-He May Hold the Bill Till it Dies.

Washington, Feb. 18.-Francis G. Newlands to-day resumed his statements before the House coinage committee in advocacy of the free coinage of silver. Newlands and Representative Walker combatted each Representative Walker combatted each cother on the assertion of the former that the prices of products always rise and fall with the advance and decline of silver.

the prices of products always rise and fall with the advance and decline of silver.

Bartine and others wanted to know how long the examination was to be kept up and another wrangle ensued.

Williams, of Illinois, moved that the hearings close with to-day's session.

Tracy, of New York, as a substitute moved that the hearings cease at 7 o'clock Friday, and he adopted the suggestions of other members that a vote should be taken at 1 o'clock Friday on reporting the bill.

Williams said he would vote for the proposition of Tracy under protest because he could not help himself.

Bland made a similar statement, so by unanimous consent it was agreed the hearings should cease Friday noon and that a vote on the bill should be taken at 1 o'clock that day.

How the Price of Silver is Estimated.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The acting secretary of the treasury, in answer to the retary of the treasury, in answer to the How the Price of Silver is Estimated. he estimates the market price of silver is the daily quotations of silver in London. New York and San Francisco. The market price the secretary estimates from a com-parison of these prices and the prices at which silver is offered for sale to the gov-ernment, the aim being to accept the lowest offers, provided they do not materially exceed the high-est market price in the three named cities. Nettleton further states no silver bullion has been purchased by the governbullion has been purchased by the govern-ment outside of the United States, but un-doubtedly large quantities of foreign silver bullion have been delivered on purchases to the government from parties residing in the United States.

Silver Purchases.

Washington, Feb. 18 .- A hundred and twenty-four thousand ounces of silver were purchased to-day at prices ranging from .98375 to .9850.

Possible Fate of the Bill. Washington, Feb. 18 .- If the programme washington, Feb. 18.—If the programme agreed upon to-day by the House coimage committee to govern its action upon the law, killing the cash trade in packages for the super Senate silver bill is carried out, it will make it impossible to pass that bill a second time if the President declines either to approve or disapprove it. The period of time between I o'clock Friday and noon of March 4, is just one hour less than the period of ten days, exclusive of Sunday, that the President is permitted to retain the bill without returning it to Congress.

Newlands interrupted with a remark that he had given a statement of the expenditure in a three-story frame structure. The he had given a statement of the expenditure to the silver pool investigation committee, and advised Warner not to answer the question.

Warner declined to give the amount, but declared five dollars had been expended by gold people and bank pool for every dollar spent by the silver men. Warner declared he represented no people, and said he had been advocating the cause of silver ever since he had learned of its demonetization. Walker several times pressed Warner for information as to his knowledge of the existence of any gold or bank pool.

THE IRISH FACTIONS

PRICE: FIVE CENTS.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—The financial dispute between the factions is likely to be one of the features of the coming Irish struggle. When $40,000 was released from the league fund a month ago, $25,000 went to the campaign committee and $15,000 to the Tenants' Defense league. The McCarthyites say the latter sum was too much, and further-more contend that instead of being devoted to she evicted tenants, it was used to meet overdraft on the Hibernia bank, T. P. Gill declares McCarthy must sion of the event, and yet for nearly a month past column after column in the most minute detail has been written and read about the wedding. The names of fashionable outsides that the find set apart for the tenants was heavily overdrawn. The McCarthyites ashave known when he signed the release most minute detail has been written and "It has been currently gossiped about in beneving the money was to be devoted to most minute detail has been written and fashionable quarters that Miss Willing, evicted tenants only. The question arises through the direction, or rather direct comthe conference, or whether O'Brien thought he was acting within the lines of thought he was acting within the lines of the agreement in adjusting the bank ac-count. The McCarthyites insist that the fund was to be used for tenants. In an interview Justin McCarthy deples the story of a Liberal subsidy of $20,000 for
